BRAINSTORMS

Last week we were making friends with city employees. That is until they found out we didn't plan to personally make up the difference between the 20¢ an hour pay raise granted by the city council and the $20 we wrote about. We are glad no one asked exactly how we made the mistake, because the excuse doesn't make a lot of sense to us either. We were writing, looking at our notes, listening to our recording of the meeting, thinking about the 20¢ raise, but typed $20. Now both the $ sign and the ¢ sign are on the same key of our computer, but one should be before the number and the other after, so we can't call it a typographical error. It was just a country boy trying to act smarter than

Governor Guy Hunt continues to make the headlines with his indictment for mishandling some monies donated to his inaugural fund. Only time will tell if he did something wrong or not. The thing that shakes us more is that the IRS is nosing around also. Those folks can find problems with a champion hunting dog! Seriously, we are concerned about all this, because the people of Alabama are going to suffer while the battle is being fought in the courts. Of course we wonder aloud why Attorney General Jimmy Evans felt the need to tell the news media the IRS had written him letters asking for details on the

Again the courts have made a decision which should have been made by a politician. The legal decision that the Confederate battle flag couldn't fly over the state capitol was handed down in Montgomery this week. The powers-that-be knew of the law ... even we knew it existed. Time and time again Alabama politicians will make political points by defying the laws, but stop short of doing something which will get them a jail term. They wait for someone to file a lawsuit to get the right thing done. Watch the legislative redistricting issue now before the state lawmakers ... the same thing will happen there again. We hope the issue of the Confederate battle flag flying over the historic state capitol is now a dead issue. Further efforts to fly it there will only result in more distraction from the real problems facing Alabama.

If it is necessary, wanted or historically correct to fly the Confederate flag, then we should find some historically correct place and fly the historically correct flag. We don't think any Alabama citizen should try to pretend the Civil War didn't happen, because it did. Pretending it never occurred would be dumb. The cards were made on the computer in the Business Education Department. They were also printed and folded. The cards were designed differently. There were four different designs used on the front cover. These included a Santa, a Christmas tree, a wreath, and a holly design. All of the cards were decorated with a Christmas border theme. Printed on the inside cover was a verse from Matthew 1:21 which stated, "And she shall bring forth a son, and thou shalt call His name JESUS: For He shall save His people from their sins." The FBLA emblem was placed below the verse. The right inside cover wished each recipient a Merry Christmas and a folded. The cards were designed differently. ELBA TIGERS WORK HARD DURING HOLIDAYS

The Elba Tigers hosted their own basketball tournament back before Christmas and ever since have been working hard at practice in preparation for the upcoming regular season. The Tigers had only three days of practice before going 2-1 in the tourney, but since have practiced every day except Christmas Eve and Christmas Day, and one day last week I watched as they had to score 100 points in three minutes of full-court running. Some folks may have had the holidays off, but not the Tigers.

After three weeks of practice, Coach Lane has weeded out the ones who don't want to play, and of the twelve that started, eleven are still on the team. That shows that the Tigers are serious about basketball and very serious about winning in basketball. The Tiger players have already shown that they are dedicated and willing to do whatever Coach Lane demands, and that makes me confident that this year's squad will win, and win big.

The Tigers play at home Friday night and I hope that all the Tiger fans will come out and support the team. It's basketball season and everyone needs to give the basketball team the support it deserves.

DOTHAN WINS ANNUAL PROGRESS CLASSIC

The 6A Dothan Tigers made it look easy last week as they claimed the championship of the Dothan Progress Prep Basketball Classic. The talented dunking contests, then took control late to take the title. The Tigers have an excellent basketball team and should be a shoe-in to make it to state. The surprise of the tourney was the play of the Daleville Warhawks. The Warhawks posted three wins, including upset wins over 6A Enterprise and top-ranked Headland, and played Dothan to the wire before falling late.

Daleville has some top quality athletes that are an areal and top-ranked Headland, and played bothan to the wire before falling late.

Daleville has some top quality athletes that are on a roll, and right now the bottom football team. However, the season stant pressure and a fast-paced of-Warhawks don't think anyone can beat them in anything. They may be right, because in early season action Daleville looks to be a real threat to be little or no rest for the Tigers the "We still aren't where we want to challenge for a state title in roundball.

CRIMSON TIDE SWAMPS HURRICANES

The Miami Hurricanes found out that a Crimson Tide can be just as damaging as a hurricane last week when Alabama stormed into New Orleans and clobbered the #1 Canes 34-13, in a game that wasn't even as close games we had to postpone," stated Elba's Coach Curtis Lane. "There at home," said Lane, "but both will

Miami talked big all week leading up to the game that the run-oriented Alabama offense had no chance against the Hurricane defense; however, it was obvious from the start that the Tide's powerful running game could handle the Miami defense and what was billed as the national championship game turned out to be "No Contest!" On the flip-side, the Tide defensive coaches had an outstanding game plan and the players did a super job carrying out the plan as they totally confused the Hurricanes' Heisman Trophy winner and made the Miami offense look rather bad. It was a total Tidal Wave that struck the Canes, and the result was the national title in college football was washed north to Alabama! Here are a few other notes about the big Bama win.... If the game had been close, Alabama might have fallen to the refs and their obvious desire to see Miami win the title. Miami was penalized only six times for 37 yards, and 15 yards came after the game was out of reach and the refs couldn't help the poor, outplayed Canes. The penalty against Alabama after moving to a first down inside the one-yardline was an indication that the refs were pro-Miami, and it stayed that way until the osing seconds.

One Miami running back (McGuire) talked during the week that we Lane, "and the players are now in the team the support it needs." would get over 100 yards against the vaunted Alabama defense, but all he shape and ready to play an up tempo after the game, because he had some big words to cat.

And, it seems to me that the Tide and the Elba Tigers have something in common. Elba won the state title in 1989 and 1992, but both years got shunned by local daily papers because other area teams were more flashy (Pike County in 1989 and Daleville in 1992). Alabama went 13-0 and won the national title, but against Auburn all the TV people did was talk about Pat Dye, and Friday night the TV folks were constantly talking about how Hurricane Andrew hurt the Miami team and its players, and late in the game finally talked a little about how good Alabama really was. Oh well, the fans of both teams know how good their teams are and have titles

BRANTLEY CONTINUES HOLIDAY TREAT

Talk about enjoying the holidays! The Brantley Bulldogs claimed their third tournament championship of the holidays last weekend when they clobbered the New Brockton Gamecocks to win the SEAC Tournament, held at the Gamecock gym.

The Bulldogs had earlier won tournaments in Luverne and Andalusia, and closed out the holidays with a perfect 12-0 record and the #1 ranking in the state in Class 1A. The Bulldogs are a veteran club that plays well together and has a perfect mix of seniors and underclassmen that makes the team unequaled in depth and talent. Brantley never eases up on defense and never slows down on offense, much to the dismay of its opponents, which never get a rest. It is still mighty early in the year, but the Brantley Bulldogs appear to have a solid shot at making a serious run at the state champion

The color of red gems suggested blood to primitive cultures. Red garnets were thought to stop bleeding and cure inflammation. They were believed to have the power to smooth discord between enemies and to prevent bloodshed. Asian and North American tribos used them. and North American tribes used them as bullets, believing that their rich, glowing color might cause more deadly wounds. Garnet is considered the gem of faith, constancy, and truth. It occurs in every color of the spectrum, except blue. Each of these colors is permissible to wear for the January birthstone.
